Selected Exterro Review Features

Easily Configurable Process Orchestration

Exterro Review is the only solution that orchestrates and automates the entire e-discovery review process, significantly reducing the time and cost of review while eliminating risks associated with manual intervention required in other tools. Users can easily configure the process for each review project according to the unique needs of every stakeholder, from in-house legal departments, government agencies, legal service providers and law firms.

Comprehensive Solution

Exterro Review delivers superior results either as a stand-alone document review solution or part of a broader e-discovery solution, with fully integrated collection, processing and production capabilities.

Advanced Artificial Intelligence (AI)

AI is incorporated throughout Exterro Review, from AI-curated document summaries available to reviewers to Smart Labeling algorithms that guide reviewers in their actions, steering users to review the documents most relevant to their assigned task.

Accelerated Time to Review

Blazingly fast ingestion and seamless orchestration and automation of multi-stage review tasks (e.g. first pass, responsiveness, privilege review, QC) will immediately drive efficiencies during the review stage. Furthermore, Exterro's end-to-end, fully integrated e-discovery platform ensures the shortest possible time to review from matter inception. Documents can be concurrently collected and processed from multiple data sources and seamlessly moved into review as data becomes available, eliminating delays, handoffs, and the arduous task of managing documents common in other tools.

Unparalleled Security

While Exterro's SOC II, FedRAMP and ISO certifications demonstrate our ironclad commitment to securing client data, they only tell part of the story. Exterro's patented Gateway Coordinator and single core architecture significantly reduces the scope of collected data and stores it in a security-hardened vault accessible only to authorized users, eliminating the need to transfer data to external stakeholders.

Role Based Access

Our cloud-based platform enables seamless integration of multiple internal and external stakeholders with robust matter- and role-based security controls ensuring the right parties see the right data and the right roles have access to the right functionality.

Intuitive User Experience

Featuring a simple, intuitive browser-based user interface, Reviewers require minimal instruction to fully utilize the newly designed Exterro Review. Features are elegantly revealed as users gain experience and comfort.

Robust Reporting

Intuitive dashboard and comprehensive reporting capabilities facilitate review management, analysis and resource optimization. Easily view overall project progress, the status of reviewer groups and individual performance and gain insight into key business metrics.
